J. P. Porter returned last Friday from Santa Fe, where he took a short course of treatment for rheumatism. He thinks he got some benefit.

Frank Abbott, with his wife and children, visited H. D. Button and family Thursday night, on his way home from Colorado to Elk City, Oklahoma. Mr. Abbott says the Estancia valley is the best country he saw in the dry belt. They have fine crops in the Elk City, Oklahoma, country this year.

H. G. Bedford came in Monday evening for his yearly visit to Estancia. He says northwest Texas in general has fine crops. He would have been here ten days earlier but for a tremendous flood which washed out seven miles of railroad track and tied up traffic for that length of time.

The force at the Farmers and Stockmens Equity Exchange has been changed. Ira N. Riley, Gil Akin, Mr. Bingham and Miss Riley have retired. W. R. Meador has been installed as manager and will keep the books for the present. Oscar Kemp is in charge of the grocery department. Celestino Ortiz and Charley Sawey of the old force remain.

Mrs. M. B. Falconer entertained with an informal luncheon at her home west of McIntosh in honor of Mrs. Allan McGillivray of Las Animas, Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Minerman and daughter of Los Angeles, California. The guests were Mrs. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Jensen and daughter, Mrs. Sallie Comer and J. B. Bowman.

There is to be a town at Gran Quivira judging from the number of lots sold there Monday, August 16. The people of that community are so isolated that they are trying to get a railroad company interested in the matter. Some enterprising people got up a scheme to build the town first. On the date mentioned seven hundred lots were sold at the old ruins. The county line runs right by the ruins, but the town to be is mostly in Socorro county.

Mr. Whitenack of Trinidad, Colorado, has applied for a charter to start a bank at Moriarty. Presumably others in Moriarty and vicinity are associated with him in the enterprise. Mr. Whitenack has contracted to purchase the property of R. H. Harper in Moriarty, consisting of a five-acre tract and dwelling and some vacant lots, contingent on the granting of the charter for the bank. This is another evidence of prosperity in the Estancia valley.

D. W. Jennings and wife of Oklahoma City, who have been here for several weeks testing out the climate for Mrs. Jennings' health and looking around for an opening, have about concluded to cast their lot with us. Mrs. Jennings' health has improved to a marked degree since coming here. Mr. Jennings was the investment and loan business in Oklahoma City.

Cleofes Romero came in Tuesday from Las Vegas to look after business matters. He is interested in an oil company that has started a well at Buchanan, and will shortly start two more—at Alamo in Guadalupe county and on Mr. Romero's ranch in San Miguel county. Mr. Romero notes a change in the labor situation. Last year he could not get help for lumbering operations in the mountains, whereas now there is plenty of help at lower wages. He has lately taken a contract to furnish piling and mine props to be cut from the Las Vegas Grant, and says he could get help to cut all the timber on the Grant in a month if he wanted it.

There was a little fire scare at the White Rose Cafe yesterday morning, due to an attempt to fill the gasoline tank of the coffee percolator while it was hot. The fire was soon extinguished.

Keep on the look-out for the date of "Anita's Trial." The young ladies promise you a very thrilling time at this play. Tell all your friends. We'll keep you posted as to the date so you will not miss it.

When they got to El Paso the men, of course, had to cross the bridge to Juarez. They are mum about their exploits in the latter town, but have a harrowing story to tell about mosquitoes at the El Paso camp ground.

Ed Estes has bought out O. R. Pollard—farm, crops, implements, stock and household goods. The sale of the bean crop is contingent on Mr. Estes selling the bean crop where he is farming. Possession is to be given not later than Dec. 1st. If the deal on the bean crop goes through, the change will be made much sooner. The Pollard family are going to a lower altitude on account of Mrs. Pollard's health. We shall be very sorry to lose them, but will hope that the change will prove of benefit to Mrs. Pollard.
